Report on the Red Dot Awareness Campaign

Location: Sadashiv Peth, Pune

Date: Friday, January 28, 2022

As part of extension activities focusing on cleanliness and health issues related to women's hygiene, the girl students of SYBBA(CA) from Marathwada Mitra Mandal's Commerce College took a proactive initiative to generate awareness on appropriate sanitary waste management.

Objective: The campaign aimed to educate young girls and the community about the importance of proper disposal of sanitary waste and the significance of the 'Red Dot' — a simple yet effective method to inform waste collectors about sanitary waste, ensuring both safety and dignity in waste management practices.

Activities Conducted:

- The students visited multiple schools in the vicinity and conducted interactive sessions with schoolgirls and teachers.
- Using charts, posters, and live demonstrations, they explained how to mark sanitary waste with a red dot before disposal.
- The sessions also covered essential topics like menstrual hygiene, safe disposal methods, and environmental sustainability.
- Informative pamphlets were distributed, encouraging responsible waste segregation and spreading awareness within families.

Participation and Impact:

- More than 200 schoolgirls were given awareness through these sessions, asking questions and sharing their own experiences.
- Teachers appreciated the initiative, recognizing its relevance and promising to reinforce the practice regularly.
- The campaign empowered young girls with knowledge, promoting both personal hygiene and community well-being.

Outcome:

- The Red Dot campaign successfully fostered a sense of responsibility towards sustainable sanitary waste management.
- The SYBBA(CA) students not only gained practical experience through community engagement but also made a meaningful contribution to public health awareness.

The event was a remarkable example of how extension activities can bridge the gap between academic learning and social responsibility. The enthusiasm and commitment of the students were commendable, and the campaign left a lasting positive impact on the community.

The college administration, along with NSS coordinators, expressed their pride in the students' efforts and resolved to conduct more such awareness programs in the future.
